

Department of Economics

About the department

The Department of Economics has recently celebrated its 25th Anniversary and goes from strength to strength and has established itself as one of the UK's top ten teaching and research centres in Economics.

Academic staff have been educated and held academic posts at leading universities throughout the world, including Cambridge, Oxford, the LSE, Yale, and Harvard. They bring together the differing perspectives of all these universities, and have established programmes combining the best elements of education from each.

Entry requirements

The modules listed below are open to all Study Abroad, International and European Exchange students, subject to any required previous knowledge or qualifications, as stated in the course outlines below. Each module is either 15 or 30 UK credits (7.5 or 15 ECTS) and starts in either the Autumn Term (September) or the Spring Term (January).

For first year EC modules, good pre-university level mathematical skills are required. For second year EC modules, the equivalent of EC1101 (Principles of Economics), EC1108 (Introductory Statistics) and EC1109 (Maths for Economics or a Calculus Module) would be required. Please note, a selection of final year level modules (EC3XXX) will also be available to Full Year or Spring/Summer visiting students who have completed at least two years of Economics modules, please see the module catalogue for the latest modules. Changes to these are made frequently and at short notice.

The information contained in the course outlines on the following pages is correct at the time of publication but may be subject to change as part of our policy of continuous improvement and development.
